

Christmas in Rome, why not come and celebrate?

Christmas is one of the most important holidays for Christians around the world. They celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ. A lot of people believe that he is a true son of the Lord. Most Christians celebrate this date on December 25th.

Today it doesn't matter if you are Christian or not. Many families and friends come together to celebrate the holiday and organize a Christmas party at home. They cook a lot of special dishes. Christmas is also a time when people give and receive gifts!

This fun holiday makes people feel happy! The spirit of the holiday is especially felt in ancient European cities. Why not come and see for yourself? Rome is one of these amazing places, where Christmas can truly be considered one of the main events of the year. The city is decorated with garlands of lights, and with Christmas trees. They also organize Christmas markets and arrange a variety of entertainment everywhere.

Christmas in Rome is considered as a traditional and very important holiday. So, if you're thinking of spending Christmas this year in Rome, do not hesitate, just go for it!

What could you do at Christmas in Rome?

Rome is one of the most interesting and beautiful places. The citizens of Rome are deservedly proud of their capital. There is not a single building in the historic center of the city built after the beginning of the 20th century.

There are a lot of interesting fascinating and ancient places in the center of Rome. Go and see them. It takes about 6 hours and even more with children. Otherwise, you simply won't have time to explore everything and take wonderful photos. But remember, it is impossible to see all places at once.

Small markets

It's very interesting to go to the Vatican area where there is a small market with inexpensive goods. You could buy some interesting authentic things for your friends or family members, and have a fun.

At Piazza Navona and Campo de' Fiori you could buy amazing handmade gifts.

Nativity scene

In the center of Rome you can see a lot of nativity scenes. They come from the great Old Italian traditions. You could see some of them in the churches, or in most bakery or display windows throughout the Christmas season. You will be surprised to see very impressive and large nativity scenes and a gorgeous Christmas tree at the center of St. Peter's Square. It's definitely worth seeing.

Christmas Concerts

At Christmas time you can see a lot of local musicians and singers at streets and in the churches. It will be a great experience to listen to Christmas songs or classical music at these places.

Christmas Food

You could try special menus during the holiday at nice places on Christmas Eve. Some great places offer tasty dishes for lunch in Trastevere on Christmas Day and you could try amazing fish dishes. In the evening you could go to a restaurant and try a traditional tortellini soup followed by meat and other dishes.

Remember, there are a lot of people in Italy at this time, so try to book a place to eat far in advance.

Worship Events

Christmas in Rome tells us about religious traditions. People come to take part in Mass. The most popular place for worship is Christmas Eve Mass at the Vatican. You can go to the Basilica if you buy a ticket. This is a very popular place, so you must book a ticket very far in advance.

You can also go to St. Peter's on Christmas day at noon and see the Pope giving his Christmas Day speech and blessing the people.
