Ideological base for reality TV show scenario.

In the coming threshold of 2012, which ends on the Fifth Millennial calendar of ancient Indians Maya, many of the questions scientists and researchers of a vanished ambitious civilization, have yet to be answered.

What is going to happened to humanity and what will the New Era bring? According to the predictions of the ancient calendar, the legends as well as according to believes of Mayan Shamans, our planet will face a New Golden Era. This new Era will bring the consolidation of humanity, reconsideration of the passed and will find a new way of seen the philosophy of world structures by mankind. So far the philosophy of the human society is based on the principals of survival by distraction of the competitors to reserve resources, food and territory necessary for the particular group future generation's life. The new Era it's a humanity wake-up time for a global consolidation of good will in search for a solution to exist in lasting peace.

Birth of the new life model requires the old model must be destroyed. An interim period from destruction of the old to the birth of new will be not simple period. Forces of the new and old quantum can enter in to the conflict. The interim period has already begun. The first signs of it we can note by witnessing the effect of the destruction of old economics models, politics, social relationships and many other areas of human life. The planet's climate changes carry changes in the organism of all Earth's population, all Earth's living beings. Shamans of a few Indian nations who populated the ancient land of Yucatan (the territory that once belonged to the perished civilization of Mayans and Aztecs) says that the transitive time will inaugurate the comprehension of the passed, the presents and the future of our planet. Information search and awakening consciousness will give force for development of new social changes, peace building and cohesion of humanity.

The ancient Mayans believe that the date of December 21, 2012 the Earth's axis should change its inclination to the different degree and to prevent irreversible disastrous changes 52 crystal skulls ( 4 sets of 13 skulls each) must be found and gathered in one place. Each of the 13 skulls is a separate encyclopedia left by the past human existence for us in this age, who exist on earth today. Information is stored in memory of the crystals. Collection of all skulls in one place is a consolidation of enormous energy and knowledge that could change permanently all history, past as well as future, of mankind on the planet and prevent catastrophic destruction.

Mayans prophecy that the skulls were left to humanity of this era as a chance to survive. The skulls found and gathered in one place before December 21, 2012. Many secrets and mysteries will be unraveled, the many questions that have been raised humankind from within the centuries and millenniums, will finally be answered with clarity that could not be understood during even our recent past. We, the modern people of the Earth, must find these answers. An example of such awakening of modern people to secret knowledge from the passed can be found in an ancient Hebrew book Zoar which is the part of most secret Hebrew book Cabala that has existed for many centuries. However, excess to the information of Zoar book was permitted for people only after the years following 2000. Today's study of this book is widely progressing among the orthodox Jews.
